

DANGER WARNING BEWARE

Egypt ceased to be Egypt except in name. Naturally, the Suez Canal came under complete control of Great Britain.

The original concession for the Suez Canal was for ninety-nine years. The more important the Suez Canal became to the Rothschilds the more the Rothschilds worried what was going to happen when the ninety-nine year concession for the Suez Canal expired in 1969 and reverted to Egypt as the concession provided. Great Britain spent large fortunes and spilled much blood in many wars to maintain uninterrupted and undisturbed possession of the Suez Canal.

The Rothschilds knew that Egypt would be free to grant a new concession for the Suez Canal to a power unfriendly to Great Britain, like France, Germany or Russia, when the concession expired. The Rothschilds feared the consequences should the Suez Canal fall into the hands of an unfriendly power and Great Britain had many powers in mind who could make good use of the Suez Canal politically also against the British Empire.

Rothschilds face financial collapse without secure and permanent access to Far East to postpone nationalization concessions

The Rothschild dynasty's fortune and Great Britain's authority would diminish in the Far East if Great Britain no longer controlled the Suez Canal. Looking ahead, the Rothschilds planned their future without the Suez Canal. The first world war ended in 1918 and the Rothschilds had their plan ready. Their plan was very simple.

Under the October 1916 London Agreement, Great Britain planned to turn over Palestine to the Zionists after the war. The eastern European Talmudists ("Jews") had no money. Without money Palestine was a headache to the Zionists. The Rothschilds in London promised the Zionists unlimited financial assistance with which to develop Palestine, but on one condition. The condition was that as soon as Palestine was turned over to the Zionists, they apply for admission to the British Empire as a member.

The Rothschilds planned to construct a canal in Palestine from Ashkelon on the Mediterranean to Aqaba on the Gulf of Aqaba. They planned to construct a modern steel and concrete canal with two lanes for ships. The canal would be on British territory in perpetuity enjoying the advantages of defense by Great Britain if needed and international recognition as a member of the British Empire.

Great Britain occupied Palestine from 1921 to 1948 as the Mandatory of the League of Nations. During that period the British Empire fell apart. By the time the Zionists established a Zionist state in Palestine, the British Empire had fallen apart and no longer existed. Palestine under the Zionists could not apply for admission to the British Empire. There was no British Empire.

When the Rothschilds realized what was happening, they were compelled to alter their plans. The Rothschilds were determined that Great Britain must turn over Palestine to the Zionists for a sovereign Zionist state. The idea of a United Nations was then a reality and the Rothschilds planned upon getting the sovereign Zionist state admitted to the United Nations. The United Nations would provide Palestine with the same advantages that the British Empire would have provided once upon a time.

If the sovereign Zionist state could be admitted to the United Nations, Palestine's future was assured. Under the United Nations Charter every member of the United Nations is pledged to come to the defense of any United Nations member whenever it becomes necessary. The nations of the world would be obligated to defend the existence of Palestine if it became a member of the United Nations as it is today.

Security and international recognition were assured for Palestine, in fact as good or even better than a member of the British Empire. The Rothschilds used money like water to have Palestine admitted to the United Nations. Since May 14, 1948 Palestine was known as the State of Israel. The Rothschilds surely spent a fortune to obtain the votes to admit the State of Israel to the United Nations as a member.

The Rothschilds were very discouraged in October 1916 when Great Britain was considering surrender to Germany. If Germany won the war in Europe the Ottoman Empire would after the war remain undivided, meaning that the Rothschilds could not get Palestine as a member of the British Empire. The Rothschilds did not know what to do. Then in October 1916 the World Zionist Organization entered the picture. When Great Britain was considering surrender to Germany, the World Zionist Organization and the British War Cabinet entered into the October 1916 London Agreement.

The Rothschild dynasty was astonished when on April 6, 1917 the United States declared war against Germany. By July 1917 it appeared that Germany would be defeated after the entry of the United States into the war. The Rothschild dynasty sought out Mr. Chaim Weizmann and cultivated his friendship. The Rothschilds realized that the World Zionist Organization must be recognized. The Rothschilds purchased a Prince Albert frock coat and a silk hat for Chaim Weizmann and treated him as though he was already the head of the Government of Palestine, which he eventually became.

The Rothschilds renewed their interest in the plan to finance the Zionist movement in Palestine in exchange for the concession to construct their modern canal across Palestine in competition with the Suez Canal. Great Britain was certain to defeat Germany. Great Britain had agreed to turn over Palestine to the Talmudists ("Jews") of the world for railroading the United States into the war in Europe as Great Britain's ally. The only link missing now was the existence in Palestine of an independent sovereign Zionist state. The Rothschilds financed transplanting 600,000 eastern European Talmudists ("Jews") into Palestine and arranged to remove the last of General Allenby's 200,000 British troops from Palestine.

In collaboration with President Truman in the United States the armed 600,000 transplanted alien Talmudists ("Jews") on May 18, 1948 began their expulsion from Palestine of the Christian and Moslem disarmed and defenseless 1,350,000 population and at the same time declared their armed uprising the State of Israel. The Rothschilds were now satisfied. The only unfinished business was to force the Middle East nations to recognize the State of Israel. The Rothschilds commenced their final stage by building the present oil pipe line from Ashkelon on the Mediterranean to Aqaba on the Gulf of Aqaba, along the route of their future modern long planned steel & concrete two-lane canal.

The Middle East situation is the result of the Rothschild efforts to secure permanent and secure access to the Far East. This nonsense about the "repatriation" of "God's chosen people" to "their promised land" has been exposed the greatest hoax ever perpetrated on mankind. The single purpose of the Rothschilds was to secure permanent and secure access to their vast natural resources in the Far East.

This author has had the patience and the time to inform seven Presidents of the United States about the underlying reason for the Middle East aggression by the Talmudists ("Jews") throughout the world. These seven masters of deception were all briefed by this author on the reason for the aggression in Palestine. This author spent a small fortune acquainting members of Congress and political and industrial leaders in the United States with all these facts, supplying them with photostat reproductions of documentary evidence to support every statement made by this author.

It cries out to heaven that this country and the world has been put to the expense of billions of billions of dollars to see the Rothschilds have secure and permanent access to their unlimited wealth in the Far East. The great danger today remains that the Middle East crisis may degenerate into another world war. If that does occur, let this nation know now that the United States will be defeated. The United States is today "a second-rate military power" according to authorities best qualified to judge. Anyone who has read the newspapers for the last few weeks has read the statements to that effect by leaders in this country, in and out of the government have been telling the nation.

If the Talmudists ("Jews") of the world say they are willing to see another world war fought to establish "God's chosen people" in "their promised land" to rule the world from Palestine, then it is time to tell the grass roots of the United States population what all the excitement is about. This issue must be dragged into the light for the grass roots of the population of the United States to see why they are expected to die in a nuclear war with a smile on their face.

The time is growing late and the Soviet Union is building bigger and more destructive nuclear weapons. The Soviet Union probably does not want a nuclear war anymore than the United States wants one. But this author has always believed in the inevitability of the unpredictable.

Grass roots population of the United States doomed to disappointment and defeat unless alerted by an understanding of danger

This author pleads with readers of this issue of Common Sense to purchase as many copies of this issue as their means will permit, to be circulated by them where they believe this information is needed and necessary. Sacrifice some little luxury, and even a necessity to purchase as many copies as possible. If ten thousand (10,000) of the most loyal readers of Common Sense will each order one hundred (100) copies, it will mean an additional one million copies distributed to the grass roots population of the United States. If only ten percent (10%) of that additional million readers will purchase one hundred (100) copies each for distribution, it will mean an additional ten million (10,000,000) copies in circulation. That can turn the tide. And dear readers, no one is getting rich doing this. Common Sense loses money every day it opens its doors, but does it with a smile knowing their sacrifices and services provided security for the future of this once great and glorious country, the finest yet to exist on this earth. Rush your order before you go to bed tonight. Thank you.
